

Adrianna Samaniego is currently a Diversity Markets Manager at Google, Inc. working to empower underrepresented communities to grow on the web. In that capacity, she is focused on building programs that help diverse communities utilize Google's tools & solutions, creating a model for diversity and inclusion in Google's business globally. Her latest program build is Google's Small Business Supplier Diversity Program. Prior to joining Google, Adrianna worked at Goldman Sachs in the Finance division. In addition, she serves on the Board of the Hispanic Googler Network, Google's Employee resource group. Adrianna also Co-founded and Co-leads on Google's Hispanic Business Development team that focuses on programs to engage the Hispanic community and businesses with Google's products and services. With this she was project lead for Get Americas Business Online con Google gybo.com/espanol. Outside of Google, she also serves on the national leadership team for her sorority, Lambda Theta Alpha Latin Sorority, Inc.

Adrianna's excellence in the workplace and community has been recognized on numerous occasions, with honors like Google Diversity Team Award, B2B Vertical Leadership Award, Lambda Theta Alpha Young Professional of the Year Award, Silicon Valley' Latino Emerging Leader Award, and most recently Hispanic Association of Corporate Responsibility Young Corporate Achiever Award. Adrianna graduated with a B.A. in Business Finance from The University of Georgia. She is of Mexican decent and was born and raised in Douglas, Arizona.